

SKY HIGH

Miami already has some of the tallest buildings in the country, and luxury living is about to reach new heights with the 64-story Brickell Flatiron and its breathtaking Penthouse Collection located on the sky-scraping 50th through 64th Floors.

TEXT BY SANDY LINDSEY

Life at the top has always been good, but it's about to get significantly better thanks to the newly-unveiled Brickell Flatiron Penthouse Collection that embodies the elegance and sophistication of Italian design. "We are sparing no detail and no expense to deliver a memorable product offering our residents the highest-caliber of quality and design that will withstand the test of time," says Developer Ugo Colombo, Founder of CMC Group. These "mansions in the sky" include expansive single-story residences along with 2-story duplex and 3-story triplex upper penthouses. With layouts measuring up to nearly 6,500 sq. ft. in size, residences will include 10- to 11-foot-high ceilings, premium finishes and fixtures, and panoramic views of the Miami skyline and Biscayne Bay. Two triplex penthouses will feature private terraces with rooftop pools, summer kitchens and changing rooms, as well as private elevator vestibules within each unit providing access to all three levels. But act fast, as of press time, only one triplex penthouse remains available at $15.5M; BrickellFlatiron.com.

